Province, Chamber of Commerce launch business information service

Chambers of Commerce across Ontario will become centres of business information under a joint project with the provincial government announced today by Industry and Tourism minister Mr. Larry Grossman.

The Ministry of Industry and Tourism will set up, with any chamber that requests it, a library of information on government programs that firms can use to do business more successfully.

Already, Mr. Grossman said, 23 chambers have expressed interest in taking part. They are: Chatham, Parry Sound, Windsor, Barrie, Simcoe, Toronto, Haliburton, Ottawa, Smiths Falls, Elmira Sault Ste. Marie, Kingston, Mississauga, North Bay, Burlington, St. Catharines, Nepean-Kanata, Oshawa, Whitby, Sudbury, St. Thomas, Timmins-Porcupine and Orillia.

The joint program is an extension of the work now being done by the ministry's 18 field offices to disseminate information about government programs, assistance, issues and regulations.

Starting in Toronto in early November and in northern Ontario in mid-November, ministry officials will hold regional meetings with local chambers to get the service rolling.

Bob Planck of the ministry's small business development branch and Elaine Roscoe of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce will co-ordinate the Business Information Centre program.

UIC benefits go up 11 percent but premium rates dropped

OTTAWA (CP) — Unemployment insurance benefits will increase 11 per cent next year, but most Canadians will end up paying lower premiums.

Premium rates for employers and employees will drop almost nine per cent, effective Jan. 1, under federal government budget plans unveiled Thursday.

But the amount of earnings a person must insure under the program is rising at the same time.

Officials say the combination means most Canadians will pay less, although about 20 per cent of workers and their employers will wind up with bigger weekly payments into the unemployment insurance fund.

The government also is increasing maximum weekly benefits to the unemployed to $210 from $189.

Cost of the program will rise to about $6.3 billion next year from $5.4 billion this year.

Reduction in the weekly premium rate is due to the fact the government overestimated the 1981 unemployment rate, program officials said.

Ottawa forecast an annual 8.5-per-cent jobless rate, but it will work out to about 7.5 per cent by the end of the year, they said.

Since the weekly premium rate is based on the forecast, the government is winding up with a $375-million surplus in the fund for 1981.

DROP NINE PER CENT

Weekly premiums paid by employees will drop Jan. 1 to $1.65 from $1.80 for each $100 of insurable earnings. Weekly premiums paid by employers drop to $2.31 from $2.52.

However, maximum weekly insurable earnings are going up to $350 from $315, so employees earning that amount will see their payment rise to $5.78 from $5.67 weekly.

Employers will kick in $8.08 a week at the maximum level, compared with $7.93 this year.

Officials said the two main reasons for another increase in the cost of the insurance program in 1982 will be the higher benefit rate and an expected increase in the annual unemployment rate to 7.8 per cent.

Officials expect the government to pay $5.8 billion in benefits to between 2.5 and three million unemployed individuals in 1982. Including administration, cost of the program is expected to total $6.3 billion.

Premiums from employers and employees cover about 80 per cent of the cost of the insurance program. The government pays the rest out of general revenues raised through taxes.

Ottawa's share also pays for extra benefits in regions with high unemployment and for fishermen's benefits.

HALIBURTON — About 150 guests attended the annual Haliburton County Warden's banquet on Saturday evening at the Haliburton Legion Hall.

Warden Murray Fearrey welcomed guests and introduced his family and friends to the gathering. H. York, County of Hastings; Ivan MacMillan, Victoria County; Carmen Medcalfe, Peterborough County and John McCracken, County of Northumberland.

Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Monmouth Reeve, Keith Tallman and the very impressive guest speaker at the banquet was Sean Conway, Liberal MPP for Renfrew North.

The banquet was catered by the Haliburton Legion Ladies Auxiliary and the music for the dance following was supplied by "North Porcupine" from Wilberforce.

Man captured after shooting Constable near Bancroft, Fri.

BANCROFT — Provincial Police stormed a lonely farmhouse north of the village here Saturday morning ending a night long siege that began when a policeman was shot as he searched for a missing child who was later found unharmed.

Constable Gary Phillips was rescued in a daring bid by fellow officers who had to cross a field of gunfire to reach him.

Phillips 37, a father of two, underwent surgery at Peterborough's Civic hospital on Saturday, and is reported in good condition after doctors attempted to repair his shattered ankle.

The 17 year OPP veteran had to crawl and roll in darkness to the safety of a wood pile outside the house after he was shot.

Phillips' ordeal began when he and his partner Wayne Robins, accompanied by William Plumbley 67, called at a farmhouse in the community of Bird's Creek when a struggle ensued and Phillips was shot.

After the constables escaped, Robins radioed for help and drove his cruiser between Phillips and the house in an attempt to protect his partner.

Police said the eight hour siege ended when a four man OPP tactic and rescue unit from Perth lobbed tear gas into the house after negotiations had failed. Police stormed the house and arrested a suspect.

Phillips and Robins were part of a group of 300 searchers combing the area for missing 2½ year old Jennifer Stringer, daughter of OPP constable Paul Stringer. The girl was missing after wandering away from her parents who were staying with relatives at Bird's Creek.

Jennifer was discovered unharmed shortly before noon after huddling all night with no mittens or boots in a wooded area two miles from the siege. Police said it is not clear what precipitated the shooting and that the occupant of the farmhouse was known as a recluse.

Claude Plumbley 52, of Herchel Township has been charged with two counts of attempted murder. He was to appear in provincial court in Belleville on Monday.

Ease

immigration rules

Deputy Opposition House Leader Doug Lewis, M. P., today welcomed the decision by the Federal Government yesterday, to ease the immigration rules to allow Polish refugees to apply more easily for landed immigrant status in Canada.

"I know of Polish refugees in Simcoe North, who will be able to benefit from this decision", stated Mr. Lewis.

"Unfortunately, this decision did not come as quickly as it could have. As Question Period Co-ordinaor, I arranged for a motion to be placed on the floor of the House of Commons, commencing October 14th and every day thereafter, appealing for action to help Polish refugees. Our Immigration spokesman, John McDermid, M.P., demanded action by the government. We wore them down."

"Immigrants from Europe have made a great contribution to Canada with their skills, determination, culture, and ambition. They are valuable citizens."

Greener pastures

(IDRC) - Planting trees and pasture plants together could be the key to restoring the productivity of vast stretches of wastelands in India.

Scientists at the Indian Grassland and Fodder Research Institute in the state of Uttar Pradesh, with support from Canada's International Development Research Centre, are looking into ways of growing nutritious pasture grasses and legumes between rows of fast-growing fuel and fodder trees. They hope to reclaim some of the state's 57 million hectares of badly degraded land, laid waste by severe overgrazing and a growing population's desperate search for cooking fuel.

Silvipasture, as the combination is called, allows land to be used for feeding animals and cutting wood while restoring the productive capacities of the soil.

Institute scientists are looking for the most productive mix of a range of native and exotic grasses and trees adapted to the region's climate and the people's needs.

Bleed Canada, Bleed MacEachen sticks us

The tinkering madness finance minister Allan MacEachen professes as equanimity in the federal budget will mortally wound us all.

If you are one of more than a million renewing mortgages totalling $50 billion in the next year, you will bleed. MacEachen will help 12,500 of you.

If you are one of the thousands upon thousands seeking rental accommodation (probably because you have lost your home), you will bleed. MacEachen extends tax free loans of up to $7,500 to the construction of only 15,000 units.

If you earn between $11,000 and $15,000 like most people, a $24 reduction in taxes will not stop up the flow of blood as you watch others earning $85,000 gain $1,000 in tax reductions. Businessmen for whom the small development bond has been extended, will bleed as they watch money saving tax loopholes constrict before their very eyes. And as energy price increases take another $1,400 from every family.

Our hearts have already bled as we have tightened our belts, ceased purchases of major appliances and watched 2,000 fellow citizens at Admiral lose their jobs. Yet MacEachen permits his government to spend 22 percent more than the year before. Some tax loopholes may be plugged but we will all pay more.

You will bleed as no physician has ever bled you when suddenly you face a tax on a dental plan provided by your employer.

Is this equanimity? Lose your home, lose your job, lose what little comforts there are left in what jokingly is called a democracy-with responsible government. MacEachen reminds us of the tyrant king who beat the peasants into servitude and hunger. And throughout history, hunger has been what drove people rebelliously into the streets. We may not be far from that point today.

AUTUMN STANDBY

In the autumn the kitchen seems to be the heart of most homes. The aroma of a slowly simmering beef stew, a basket of root vegetables and pink potatoes waiting to be used, a delicious rice pudding simmering in the double-boiler, and so many other familiar autumn dishes and all are hearty, healthful and appealing and — a big plus — easy on the budget.

BEAN POT STEW

If you have an earthenware bean pot, by all means use it or replace by a casserole with a good cover. A nice economical dish to serve 6.

2 tbsp. (30 mL) beef suet or bacon fat
1 lb. (500 g) stewing beef
3 tbsp. (50 mL) flour
4 onions, sliced
6 carrots, sliced
1 medium or ½ large turnip, diced
3 ribs of celery, diced
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tsp. (5 mL) savory
4 potatoes, cut in half.

Melt in a frying pan, the beef suet, cut in small pieces or the bacon fat. Roll the pieces of beef in the flour, and brown in the fat, on all sides. Add the onions, carrots, turnip and celery. Stir all together. Pour the whole into the bean pot or casserole. Salt, pepper and add savory. Stir well and add enough hot water to cover. Preheat oven to 350°F (180°C). Cover pot (use foil if you do not have a cover). Bake 2 hours. Add potatoes and bake another hour.

Make a sauce with 3 tbsp. (50 mL) flour, 3 tbsp. (50 mL) butter and 1 cup (250 mL) milk, 1 cup (250 mL) of the stew consommé, when creamy add ¼ cup (60 mL) chopped parsley.

TO SERVE: Drain meat and vegetables from bouillon, with a perforated spoon, set on a serving dish, pour the parsley sauce over all.

The remaining consommé can be used as a soup. If any vegetables are left after the meal, dice and add to the consommé with noodles to taste. Serves 6.

ELEGANT COLCANNON

Serve as you would mashed potatoes or make a meal of it surrounded with crisped bacon or with a crown of blanched green vegetables.

4 to 6 medium size carrots, sliced
4 medium size potatoes pared and cubed
1 large onion, sliced
½ tsp. (2 mL) dill weed
¼ tsp. (1 mL) thyme
3 tbsp. (50 mL) butter
¾ cup (160 mL) milk
1 egg, lightly beaten
¼ cup (60 mL) sour cream
Salt, pepper to taste
¼ cup (60 mL) parsley, chopped.

In a medium size casserole, with a good cover, combine the carrots, potatoes, onion, thyme, dill and 1 tbsp. (15 mL) of the butter. Add the milk. Cover and simmer until the vegetables are tender. Make a cream by mashing the whole with a potato masher.

Mix the egg with the sour cream and the remaining butter.

Mix and add to the hot potatoes. Whip with a whisk over medium heat, until creamy and fluffy with pieces of carrots remaining here and there. Place in a hot dish, top with parsley. Serves 4 to 6.

LEMON RICE CREAM

Truly my favorite rice dessert. I never seem to get tired of it. Will keep as long as four days refrigerated.

½ cup (125 mL) short grain rice
4 cups (1 L) milk
Pinch of salt
3 pieces of lemon peel
4 tbsp. (60 mL) sugar
Nutmeg or cinnamon to taste.

Place all the ingredients, except the nutmeg or cinnamon, in the top of a double-boiler. Cook covered over low heat 1 to 1½ hours, stirring once or twice, in the first half hour of cooking. It is ready when the whole has a creamy texture and the rice is soft.

Pour into a serving dish and sprinkle top with the nutmeg or cinnamon. Serve as is or topped with raspberry jam. Serves 6.

The Credit Crunch

By W. Roger Worth

Canada's banks are starting to tighten up on credit, and a lot of smaller firms have been caught in a real bind.

While the sky-high interest rates that have prevailed during the last year or more have certainly cut profits for small firms, some nervous bankers are pushing entrepreneurs to pay back part of their loans, to reduce the banks' risk. In some cases, this is even happening to customers who have not missed interest or loan payments.

A recent report on small business lending, financed jointly by the banks and the federal government, indicates the financial institutions have a problem educating and training bank managers. This is one reason the bankers, and particularly those in smaller branches, would rather make car or boat loans, than extend credit to businesses for machinery or other productive equipment.

In a lot of cases the bankers simply don't understand the businesses operated by their customers, nor do they appear to be trying. Many bank managers have never visited the businesses they lend money to, at least until difficulties occur.

Perhaps the time has come for the banks to get out of the office and have a look at what's happening in the real world of small business, rather than evaluating the entrepreneurs on the basis of balance sheets and profit and loss statements.

Such visits could be a real eye opener for the bank managers, who would get a first-hand look at what is likely to happen when they tighten credit.

operations as a major source of air pollution.

Clearing land for crops by burning off competing vegetation adds massive amounts of carbon dioxide to the global atmospheric system every year. Recent research in Brazil suggests that tropical fires produce as much carbon dioxide as the world's combined combustion of oil, gas, and coal.

Scientists are worried that carbon dioxide build-up will eventually create a "greenhouse effect" — that will disrupt the global climate.

Most developing countries discourage slash-and-burn. But pressures to grow more food leave farmers in the Third World little choice.

"Gauguin to Moore: Primitivism in Modern Sculpture at the Art Gallery of Ontario

The Kiss, a limestone sculpture by Rumanian sculptor Constantine Brancusi.

Art lovers are in for a treat this fall when the Art Gallery of Ontario presents the spectacular "Gauguin To Moore: Primitivism in Modern Sculpture" exhibition, November 7, 1981 to January 3, 1982. Made possible by a grant from Mobil Oil Canada, Ltd., the show will feature an outstanding array of masterpieces of modern sculpture, plus prints and drawings by 22 artists, including Picasso, Matisse, Rodin, Brancusi, Epstein, Lipchitz, Giacometti, Mollot, Modigliani, Ernst and Moore.

Due to the fragility of the unique and valuable works to be included, and the subsequent difficulty encountered in borrowing such works, this will be the first and only time that they will be seen together anywhere in the world. This exhibition will appear in Toronto only.

Representing three years of intensive research by Dr. Alan Wilkinson, the AGO's curator of modern sculpture, "Gauguin To Moore" addresses a distinctly provocative theme—European artists' discovery and synthesis in the late 1800's and early 1900's of so-called "primitive" artifacts from Africa and Oceania. Fortunately, these artists were quick to recognize that the exotic carvings and masks, brought back to Europe at the end of the 19th century, were not mere ethnological curiosities, but rather art objects of unusual vigor and originality. This encounter with primitive art inspired European artists to break free from the Graeco-Roman tradition of naturalistic representation that had governed European painting and sculpture since the Renaissance. Ultimately, it proved to be seminal in the evolution of modern art.

The works which Dr. Wilkinson has assembled for the exhibition include 85 carvings and bronzes and 50 related prints and drawings, dating from 1889 to 1940. Although the focus of the Gauguin to Moore show will be on the impact of African, Pre-Columbian and Oceanic on Gauguin, Picasso and their peers, the exhibition will also show the influence of other non-European traditions, such as early Egyptian, Sumerian and far-Eastern art.

Of the 22 artists represented, many are world famous. There will be 13 woodcarvings and one terracotta by Gauguin, complemented by 14 drawings and woodcuts which the artist 'pulled' himself. Also included are Rodin's 1907-08 portraits of the Japanese actress Hanako and watercolours of Cambodian dancers reflecting exotic Eastern influences. Four of Matisse's best-known early bronzes will be shown, as well as nine sculptures by Picasso, four of which have been loaned by the Musee Picasso, including two woodcarvings of 1907 never before seen in North America.

Brancusi will be represented by four sculptures, including The Kiss, one of the most renowned sculptures of the 20th century. The three Epstein stone carvings shown are from 1910 to 1913, the artist's most important period. There will also be three stunning Modigliani heads, three Schmidt-Rottluff and one Kirchner wood carvings, three bronzes by Lipchitz, eight bronzes by Giacometti from the late 1920's and early 1930's, three witty Ernst bronzes and 14 carvings and bronzes by Henry

Moore, six of them loaned by the artist himself.

Although the pieces in the exhibition are executed in a variety of media, including bronze, plaster, watercolour, ink, pastel and lithography, carved works will predominate.

With the world's largest public collection of Henry Moore works permanently ensconced in the Moore Wing of the AGO, it will be a pleasure to see Moore's 'oeuvre' presented in the fresh context of the "Primitivism In Modern Sculpture" show. One suspects that Dr. Wilkinson, who played a major role in bringing the Moore collection to Toronto, and who has since been entrusted with its keeping, is in part, trying to provide us with fresh new insights on the beloved, but now-familiar collection.

The "Gauguin To Moore" exhibition will be open to the public from 11:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday and 11:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday. Admission for Art Gallery of Ontario Members will be free; admission for non-members will be $3.50 for adults, $2.25 for students over 16, and out-of-province senior citizens, and $1.50 for Ontario senior citizens and students aged 12 to 16 years. These prices include regular gallery admission. The show will run from November 7, 1981 to January 3, 1982 and should not be missed.

Minden Novices are class of Tri County hockey league

MINDEN—The Tri County Novices will go undefeated this year in their league. That is of course, if they stay Tri County. Rumor has it that they may be bumped up to OMHA Novice.

After opening the season two weeks ago with two convincing victories over Haliburton 11-1 and 6-0, they continued to impress with two more easy wins this week, both in foreign rinks.

Monday evening they travelled to Bobcaygeon where they downed their hosts 7-2. Robbie Ackerblade and Randy Bull led the way with two goals each while singles went to Jay Hughes and Darrin Sawyer. Sawyer, Bull, David Lee and Hunter Obee had assists in the game.

Then the local novices travelled to Beaverton on Sunday evening and literally trounced their opposition 13-0. Coach Calvin Boyle in fact had to put his forwards on defence due to the superiority of the local boys, rather than to completely demoralize the Beaverton squad.

Undefeated Novices win 4th

Darrin Sawyers was the top gun in the game for Minden netting four goals. Ackerblade and Dollo each had the hat trick while Randy Bull scored once. Phillip Boyle recorded the shutout for Minden, his second of the season.

Juveniles win home opener 8-1 over Ops, Ingram nets 3

MINDEN — The OHA Juveniles got their season off on the right track Friday evening when they destroyed Ops 8-1 on the strength of a three goal performance by Ivan Ingram.

Ingram got the contest going in the right direction at the 13 second mark of the opening period when he scored on a three way passing play from Rick Choy and Rick Beeney. Just 13 seconds later Ingram found the net again, this time unassisted.

Beeney then scored the third goal of the period at 7:12 from Eldon Bull and Ingram. Just over three minutes later Ingram got his third goal of the period assisted by Craig Coneybeare and Beeney.

At 5:14 of the second Kevin Hamilton upped the score to 5-0 converting passes from Choy and Brent Moxam. At 8:09 Eldon Bull got his first of two on the night, assisted by Moxam and Bob Edge.

At 7:48 of the third period the score went to 7-0 when Bull scored on a nifty pass from Ingram. Ops then got on the scoreboard at 10:16 to spoil Minden's shutout bid. Beeney rounded out the scoring with less than three minutes to play of a pass from Coneybeare.

Upcoming games this week in Minden has the juveniles at home to Millbrook on Friday at 8 pm. Then on Saturday, Beaverton novices at the Centre for a 2 pm. start, Woodville Atoms take on Minden at 3 pm. and Little Britain Peewees play our boys at 4 pm.

Atoms win, Bantams lose

In Beaverton on Saturday evening the Minden Tri County Atoms, bolstered by Robbie Ackerblade of the Tri County Novices downed Beaverton 5-3. Ackerblade led the scoring parade with two goals. Joey Boyle also netted a pair while Chris Holiday-Rhodes potted one. Boyle also drew the only assist awarded by the officials in this contest.

In Haliburton on Tuesday of last week, the undefeated Minden Bantams were thoroughly beaten 9-1 by their hosts. Daryl Ward scored the lone Minden goal to avert the shutout.

SUPERSAW

HUSQVARNA 162

Everything about the Husqvarna 162 is dynamite. More power per pound than any other saw. Slim design and great balance for easy handling.

An exclusive muffler design maintains a low noise level and the Husqvarna vibration damping system makes it the smoothest operating saw in its class. CD ignition is standard... as well as all those famous Husqvarna safety features. You can even get the optional Swed-O-Matic chain brake. The only system of its kind to work in any cutting position.

Husqvarna 162. No wonder they call it SUPERSAW!
